

Natural Yard Care Product List

June 2008

This product list is intended to help stores stock low-hazard “Natural Yard Care” products. It is also intended to help residents identify products that will help them manage weeds and pests with minimum risk to themselves, their family, pets, and the environment.

Chemical hazards evaluated include: mobility, persistence, bioaccumulation, acute and chronic toxicity, inert ingredients, degradation products, and exposure risk. Pesticide chemicals are considered to have unacceptable hazards when they are: persistent and can bioaccumulate, known or suspected carcinogens, mutagens, or cause endocrine disruption. Products on the list meet both Thurston County’s IPM policy criteria and qualify for the City of Seattle/King County tier 3: pesticides of lowest concern. I am happy to provide more details about the assessment criteria and process.
