Recycle Your Used Motor Oil

It’s Easy To Do!

1. Drain the used oil into a seable, reusable container. A clean milk or laundry detergent jug will work, or try a reusable drain pan available at many auto stores.

2. Keep the oil pure. Keep the container sealed from rain water and debris. When mixed with toxic substances like solvents, gasoline, thinners or antifreeze, used oil becomes hazardous waste.

3. Call 1-800-RECYCLE (Mon to Fri — 9 am to 1 pm) or locate collection sites online at: http://1800recycle.wa.gov or www.co.thurston.wa.us/health/ehhw/usedoilsites.html.

4. Take the used oil to a collection site. To reduce waste, keep the oil container to use again.

Prepared by the Thurston County Hazardous Waste Program

A joint effort of Thurston County Public Health & Social Services, Thurston County Public Works, Washington State Department of Ecology, and the cities of Thurston County.

Oil and water don’t mix …

- It’s illegal to put used oil in landfills, down storm drains or sewers, on the ground, or in the surface waters of Washington.
- The Washington Department of Ecology estimates that 52 million pounds of toxic chemicals enter Puget Sound from stormwater runoff each year. This includes oil and petroleum products leaked from vehicles.
- One gallon of used oil is enough to contaminate 1 million gallons of water.

Spills aren’t slick

- Maintain your car and check for leaks regularly.
- Place a ground cloth or drip pan under your vehicle if you have leaks or are doing engine work.
- Clean up spills as quickly as possible.
- Take your used motor oil to HazoHouse or one of the other collection sites throughout the county.
