

2018 LEVIES & PROPERTY TAX FACT SHEET

Summary of 2017 Assessed Values and 2018 Levies

Property value increases this year were due to a mix of new construction and trends in the market which resulted in an increase in Thurston County's total taxable value from $30.035 billion in 2016 to $32.217 billion for the 2017 assessment year. This was an increase of $2.182 billion or 7.3% compared to the previous year.

Actions by local voters, taxing district officials increasing their budgets, and decision's made during the 2017 Legislature (EHB 2242) had an impact on county taxes overall. For the 2018 tax year, the average levy rate countywide increased to $13.20 per thousand of assessed value compared to $12.73 for the 2017 tax year.

What is the overall increase in property taxes for 2018?

Voters continued to pass special levies to raise taxes in 2018. Total property tax to be billed in 2018 and then distributed to 44 taxing districts is $424.9 million. This increase is $43.4 million over 2017 property taxes and is due to voter approved levies, legislative action in 2017, and/or increases initiated by taxing districts.

What caused 2018 property taxes to increase $43.4 million more than property taxes levied for 2017?

There are multiple reasons for the countywide increase in property tax collections, including:

- 2. Voter Approved Lid Lifts – This occurs when voters of a taxing district vote to remove the levy limit on the regular levies by allowing an increase greater than 1%. Lid lifts may be either permanent or temporary and may be for just one year or span over six consecutive years. Listed below are the lid lifts that have passed since 2007 that have an impact on the 2018 taxes.

Lid Lifts

City of Olympia had a 1-year permanent lid lift pass on November 7, 2017.

SE Thurston Fire Authority had a 6-year permanent lid lift pass on August 2, 2016.

3. Taxing Districts Increase Their Budgets as Permitted by Law – Each year taxing districts can legally increase their regular levy (budget from property taxes) by the lesser of 1% or inflation, plus an adjustment for new construction. For the 2018 tax year, several taxing districts increased their regular levy by 1% plus an adjustment for new construction.
4. New Construction – There was a little more new construction for the 2017 assessment year, totaling $488 million, up from $441 million in 2016. New construction includes remodeling activity and new homes, subdivisions, & commercial buildings. Regular taxing districts are allowed to increase above the 1% limit by the assessed value of new construction times last year's levy rate.
5. Taxing Districts Use Banked Capacity – Banked capacity is when taxing districts do not levy (or ask) for the full amount of tax allowed by law and may use it for a subsequent year. For 2018 property taxes, Cemetery Districts 2, Olympia Metropolitan Park District, Port of Olympia, and West Thurston Regional Fire Authority used banked capacity to set their levy. This action allows districts to request additional funds in the current year and resulted in a tax increase for property tax collection in 2018.
6. Creation of Regional Fire Authorities – To create a regional authority for fire protection and emergency medical services funded by a regular property tax, not to exceed $1.50 per thousand dollars of assessed value.

Regional Fire Protection Service Authorities

Olympia Metropolitan Park District was formed by election on November 3, 2015. The first tax year for this levy is 2017.

8. Impact due to Legislative action in 2017

EHB 2242 increases the State School Levy starting for the 2018 tax year.

In general, what causes property taxes to go up or down?

Property tax increases are generally caused by a combination of factors. For instance, when taxing districts ask for more money (that is, increase their budgets), property owners will pay more tax. Most districts set their budgets by a vote of their legislative body that may authorize increases up to their statutory or levy rate limits. This often results in increased taxes.

Taxes can also go up when voters approve excess levies for community services. Voters can approve a taxing district's request for excess levies for continuing operations or capital projects, such as school district maintenance and operation levies, building bonds, bonds for school buses, or bonds for fire trucks.

Taxes for an individual property owner may go up when the value of the property rises at a faster rate or declines at a slower rate than other properties in that particular area of the county. Taxes may also increase for an individual property owner when a new house is constructed on a previously vacant lot or when a property previously receiving an exemption (such as a senior/disabled person exemption program) is sold and becomes fully taxable.

Legislative action in 2017 increased the State School levy rate for the 2018 tax year.

Property tax decreases may occur when taxing districts ask for less money or voters defeat excess levies, when the levy rate for a regular taxing district is at its statutory maximum and the assessed value is declining, when a property qualifies for an exemption (senior or disabled citizens exemption, remodeling exemption), when value increases in some areas are less rapid than increases in other areas, or when the value decrease for a property is greater than other properties.
